Imeruli sheep

Imeruli sheep is one of the GEOFARMS finest high-quality products which is a descendant of an old Georgian sheep. Small in size has a thin, elongated body, short conical tail, cool limbs, dry constitution. More often white, sometimes varies in colors. Nerve live weight is 29.2 (largest 39) kg, ram 34.9 (largest 45) kg. The wool is pure and translucent, the wool is also soft and fluffy. The length of the nerve head is 13.3 cm (Tivtik floor 10), Aries 17.4 cm (Tivtik floor 11.6). Narcissus is 1.53 kg, ram 2.7 kg. The meat is fruity, has the best taste, no specific odor.

Our Products

Tushuri sheep

This sort is established by crossing the old Georgian sheep to rough wool fat tail sheep in 13-14th century in East Georgia. The tail of this sheep is fatty. Tushuri sheep is white, but some of them have black or brown spots on the face and extremities. The rams have well-developed spiral horns but the ewes sometimes have small horns. They are on the pasture during all seasons. They go 250-500km from summer pastures to winter ones in very difficult and stern conditions. These nomadic conditions influenced greatly on forming a firm constitution in sheep. Tushuri sheep has an unique rough wool, which is white and mild and consists a great quantity of down and transitional fur with special shine. Its meat has special taste peculiarities. From its milk a tasty cheese is produced, which is successfully used not only in Georgia

Export Market

Georgian sheep is mainly exported in the following countries:

Libya, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, Saudi Arabia, Egypt, Azerbaijan, Qatar, Kuwait, Iraq, United Arab Emirates, and Oman.

Additionally, it has to be mentioned that Georgian sheep is popular in these countries because of fat tail (Tushuri sheep).

This type of sheep is popular in the mentioned countries because it is very similar to Syrian Avass sheep which is very popular and expansive in Muslim countries.
